

Stayin' Alive is the largest production of The Bee Gees in the world, featuring an all-Canadian cast with amazing vocals, impeccable band, plus violins and horn section.

The vocal match and look of the three main characters: Tony Mattina as Barry Gibb, Joe Varga as Robin Gibb and Todd Sharman as Maurice, create an eerie sense of being at a live Bee Gees concert.

Stayin' Alive performs about 200 shows a year with a song list that spans the 60's, 70's, 80's, 90's and into the year 2001 including their very last hit, "This Is Where I Came In". Truly a moment in history!

Hits such as Jive Talking, Nite Fever, I Started A Joke, Words, How Deep Is Your Love, Too Much Heaven, Nights On Broadway, You Should Be Dancin', Tragedy, and Stayin' Alive ... to mention a few.

Toronto's Globe and Mail said:

"Stayin' Alive is fantastic".

The Chicago Tribune wrote:

"They are vocally superb".

A night of the Bee Gees with Stayin' Alive. Don't miss them!

www.schurmanentertainment.com